Please join us on the evening of Thursday, February 16th for “Avoiding the Claremont Disaster: A Conversation with James Belna, Claremont Watchdog.”

The City of Claremont lost its attempt to take over a professional water provider via eminent domain, and now taxpayers are out over $13 million—and the City keeps spending!

The Town of Apple Valley is using the same attorneys and the same strategy—and heading down the same path as Claremont.

Claremont community member and civic watchdog James Belna has warned the City of Claremont for years, and will join us to talk about how Apple Valley taxpayers can avoid the same fate!
